Hewwo

My name is lion, the human and i are here to talk to you about Autism, The Internet &
Antelopes.

If you have any questions, feel free to ask them at the end.

rawr!

What we do

Jamie makes websites, i help make everything else less scary. Jamie cannot decide what he is a specialist in. He designs, he developed and he makes stuff from lego! He has a thing about finding elegant solutions!

I work with jamie at +Lion a small company who focus on accessibility & usability

Moooooo!

So What is Autism

Autism is a difference, its a very silly way to say that the thinking process is slightly different.

Autism is a big spectrum, and in a very real way everyone is autistic!

(Jamie will babble on a bit now)

Sensory Processing

Things coming in need to be processed, if lots of things all come in at once, then processing them all can be hard!

This can cause stuff like hiding, closing eyes, flapping and putting you paws over you ears!

I blog at lickr.co.uk

Language Processing

Words & Language coming in really fast can be hard. Trying to keep up with everything can cause brains to melt and tickle out my ears....

I like smarties

Social Stuff

The subtle social things can also be hard. When people don't say what they mean or rely on conventions they don't tell us about!

This means the web is very empowering, on the internet no one knows your a Lion!

i sometimes moo

Thats all from me for now!

It's Interview time
